

THE VAST SILENCE OF CHACO CANYON

MAY 19-21, 2017

An Earth Walks Journey

Come experience the power and mystery of this World Heritage site with the companionship fellow travelers. The three day event sponsored by Earth Walks of Santa Fe will be led by a Tesuque Pueblo family who consider Chaco to be sacred ancestral homeland. The experience includes time together in group conversation, solitude alone on the land and evening campfires with storytelling & music.

For over 2,000 years Pueblo peoples lived in the Chaco Canyon region which became the center for ceremonies, trade and political activity. It is remarkable for its monumental buildings and distinctive architecture. Both solar and lunar cycles were integrated into the sophisticated architecture and huge building sites were in alignment with each other over many miles. Great straight roads radiated out from the center of the Canyon to distant outlying settlements.
